

OCEAN VODKA

World's purest vodkas: 5/5

Felicia Englmann

There are plenty of volcanoes on Hawaii, too, but Maui's Ocean Vodka is not digging into the mountains. Instead, they use the mineral water of deep sea currents coming from Greenland and meeting the Hawaiian shores at a depth of 900 metres. The water is then carefully filtered to remove salts, but leave in other minerals that add flavour. Meanwhile, the spirit is distilled from organically grown sugar cane, which also makes the finished water gluten-free.
