About Glow Juice Maui: Organic and Natural Foods Chef Craig King launched Glow Juice Maui and the Glow Cleanse in 2011 from the island of Maui. Always a chef, and now preferably a chef de liquide, Craig has been on the forefront of the natural foods revolution and has been leading people on cleanses for over 24 years. Dedicated to sustainable and organic nourishment, he has served as personal chef to many of the CEO's of the top natural food companies as well as leaders in the entertainment world. Juicing was always an integral part of his food service, but with Glow Juice Maui he focuses on helping people heal their bodies through the art of nourishment. Although Craig still enjoys helping the rich and famous keep their glow, his passion now lies in his work with local Hawaiians dealing with diabetes and obesity. Visit glowjuicemaui.com.

About Ocean Vodka: Ocean Vodka is 100% certified USDA Organic, gluten-free and the only vodka in the world made from organic sugar cane and deep ocean mineral water, sourced from a depth of 3,000 feet off the Kona Coast of the Island of Hawaii. The trace minerals, including potassium, magnesium and calcium, help create a distinct and pleasant flavor profile that is unlike any other vodka. Long inspired by the ocean paradise of Hawaii, the mission of Ocean Vodka is to create a superior organic, value-added agricultural product from Hawaii that supports the local economy, competes globally based on quality and raises awareness for the conservation of the ocean. The Ocean Vodka Organic Farm and Distillery in Kula, Maui highlights the company's commitment to socially and environmentally conscious business practices, utilizing solar panels to power 100% of the operations and sustainably farming and harvesting organic sugar cane. Tours run seven days a week and educate guests about the importance of organic farming for the conservation of land and ocean, sustainable manufacturing and the production of spirits. Ocean Vodka has been the exclusive vodka on Hawaiian Airlines since 2007, and is the
